How do I present
myself
to God and others?

Through unbelievable circumstances, Pam has survived to tell the world that God is in the restoration business! Raised in an alcoholic home, faced with an overwhelming family tragedy, and confronted with her husband’s incurable disease, she found redemption in God’s restoring power. A once very frightened child, she has moved on to become a pastor’s wife, wonderful mother to five children, and mentor to women. Married to her best friend of over twenty-five years, the pastor, she knows a little bit about life, marriage, and ministry! When Pam is not stirring up a big pot of stew or adding touches to her home, she works part time as an administrative assistant and travels to share the goodness of God and His redeeming love.

Explore who we are as women who wear many hats...in relationship to God...husband/boyfriend...work/school...family/siblings...community.
